

AP English Literature & Composition Summer Reading 2018

I am SO excited to work with you all next year in AP English Literature! This class is going to grow and stretch you, and make sure that you are ready for any text or piece of writing you encounter in college! To that end, I'm sharing a summer reading assignment for you to complete in the next few weeks.

The WHYS of Summer Reading:

- ★ There is lots of research that shows that every student who does not read over the summer will lose reading growth. Period. (Check out this Time magazine article stating that “reading just four or five books can ward off setbacks in language skills.”
<http://ideas.time.com/2013/07/01/do-kids-really-have-summer-learning-loss/>)
- ★ Summer reading helps you retain the skills that you've gained so far in high school, and help you come back in August prepared to jump right into class and discussions.
- ★ Research also shows that people who read gain great benefits, such as lower stress levels, higher degrees of empathy & cultural awareness, and are able to sleep better. Summer reading is just another way to make your summer break THAT much more relaxing.

The WHAT of Summer Reading:

Over summer break, you are required to read three texts from the suggested reading list. The texts listed below are some of the most cited works of literature on the AP English Literature exam since 1970. The numbers next to the texts are the number of times the work has been cited in that time period, so you may use your knowledge of probability to determine your literature choices. However: I would more highly recommend reading synopses of the books and choosing what interests YOU. Choose one text from each category: a Shakespeare play, a piece of Greek/Roman literature, and a piece from the general literature category. It is strongly suggested that you both read and watch the Shakespeare play for understanding.

In addition to this reading, you will be required to complete a short reading quiz for each of these texts and email them to me by midnight on July 2nd (text #1), July 30th (text #2) and August 10th (text #3). The reading quizzes are located below, and will be your first grades for Q1 for the 2018-2019 school year. My email is Lbubacz@thefsi.us You may read the books in any order.

FICTION & DRAMA Quiz:

Overall Directions: Use complete sentences and your best academic language to answer the following questions about your chosen summer reading book. If provided, the sentence lengths noted for each question are a minimum requirement.

- Question 1: What is the title, author, and lexile of your book? (www.lexile.com)
- Question 2: Where did you find this book? (Library? Bookstore? E-text? Borrowed from a friend?)
- Question 3: Choose one protagonist (main character) from your book and describe this character. (4 sentences)
- Question 4: Describe how the antagonist (opponent of the main character) challenges the protagonist and what the outcome is. (6 sentences)
- Question 5: Describe the major conflict of the book. What type of conflict is it? How is this conflict significant in shaping the protagonist? (6 sentences) Reminder: You might have man vs. self, man vs. nature, man vs. man, man vs. society or man vs. technology; internal or external; main or subordinate.
- Question 6: Select a quotation from the book and explain why it is significant. (4 sentences)
- Question 7: Write a complete sentence to capture the theme of this book. Then explain why this theme is relevant universally. (6 sentences)
- Question 8: How many stars would you give this book (between 1-5)? Justify your answer. (4 sentences)
- Question 9: Write a paragraph where you analyze the author's characterization of the protagonist through the use of a literary device (or more than one). Consider the following devices: detail, diction, imagery, symbolism and tone.
